Notes for DAVID TIBBALS:

David Tibbals, Canadice, was born in Hartford Co., CT Oct. 8, 1785. When eight years old, his father moved to Galway, Saratoga County, NY. There he lived until manhood. He learned the carpenter and joiner's trade, married, moved to Cayuga Co., NY. there followed his profession for 10 years. In 1816 he bought a farm in Canadice, and in 1818, he moved to the farm in Canadice, Ontario Co., NY and lived there until his death which occurred Sep 27, 1868. Mr. Tibbals was the husband of three wives, and the father of seven children. His first wife, was the mother of one (Phebe), died Sep 17, 1809, in Saratoga County. His second wife was the mother of six children (Sarah, Wakeman, Charlotte, Peter, Noah, and Luther). On Apr. 9, 1832, this wife and mother died a most pitiable death caused by falling on to a newly made fire in an old fashioned log house fireplace. Mr. Tibbals rose early on Sunday morning, built the fire as usual, and went to the barn to do some chores, expecting to return before any of the family were up. When he came in he found Mrs. Tibbals sitting on the floor with her flannel clothing all burned off one side of her, with the fragments of clothing and adhering coals scattered over the the floor. She lingered four days and expired. Mrs. Tibbals was an unfortunate woman from her youth, being troubled with epilepsy, which caused her premature death. Mr. Tibbals third consort died Apr. 3, 1864. Of the children of Mr. Tibbals, four are dead; Phebe, Sarah, Peter and Wakeman. Charlotte is unknown. Noah and Luther live in Canadice. Noah is on the homestead where he was born. Notes for MRS. PHEBE (ALCOTT) BLACKMORE, CORNELL, KIMBALL:

Phebe Alcott's name does not appear in the indexes of births from 1630-1799 in the City of Boston, MA. Efforts to locate the names of her parents unsuccessful so far. Her original surname might have been spelled several ways: Alcox, Alcott, Allcott, Olcott, etc. The families changed the spelling in New England. Amos Bronson Alcott changed the spelling from Alcox to Alcott.

From Sheffield W. Peabody's Diary, April 17, 1864 (Sunday) "I went over to Uncle Alveh Peabody's. There was a funeral sermon preached to the meeting house for old Misses Tibbals."

Notes for WILLIAM EDGAR:

According to his obituary of William Edgar in the "Monticello Messenger" of 4 August 1904 " He emigrated to America at the age of 19 years and first settled in Livingston County, New York, where he was married seven years later...In 1846 he came West and located at West Tray, Walworth County, this state [Wisconsin]. In the spring of 1847 he enlisted with Co.P, 73rd Wisconsin infantry and served his country gallantly during the Mexican war, being with Gen.Scott's command. Before his removal north, the deceased enjoyed the distinction of being the only survivor of the Mexican war in Green County. In 1840 Mr Edgar took advantage of the privilege offered by the government to soldiers and located 160 acres of land in Exeter township. This tract was later increased to 210 acres by purchase and it was here that the deceased made his home for a period of more than 45 years. During the summer of 1881 he enjoyed a sojourn of several months in his native land and upon his return to America he traveled considerably for a number of years. He spent some time at the National Soldiers' Home in Milwaukee not because of necessity, but because there was nothing that afforded him more keen enjoyment than the companionship of his old comrades. He was well known throughout Green County and was a familiar figure at all the gatherings of old soldiers ...After 52 years of wedded life, during which time she shared with him the trials and hardships of the early days, his devoted wife passed away in 1897 and since that time he has made his home for the most part with his two sons, Fred and Henry. Two years ago he removed from Monticello to River Falls, with his son Henry and family, with whom he resided until he answered the final call, which came on July 22nd...Thus we witness the passing of another of those sturdy pioneers whose life was so closely interwoven with the early history of the county and one who, upright and honourable in character, had always enjoyed the esteem of his fellow men."
