Notes for Abraham Van Wormer:

Abraham was a tenant farmer, leasing his land from the Patroon of Rensselaer. A typical payment was made in money, grain, fowl and some labor at the Manor House in Albany. It was a feudal system of land ownership, with the Patroon owning everything. Before 1788, no one could purchase property. About that time, Abraham purchased his farm. The 1800 Federal Census listed him as owning one slave. A branch of the Van Wormer and Lainhart clans moved to Tioga County, New York, which is where Abraham and his son Frederick died. Catharine moved back to Rotterdam, Schenectady County, New York after Abraham's death.

This letter was sent back east to Stephens family, it is too faded to photocopy. It is from the Superintendent of the Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster, British Columbia, Canada, dated; 3 August 1881.

My Dear Madam,

I obey to acknowledge receipt of yours dated July. Stephen G Davis entered this institution on the 14th day of June last suffering from a complication of disorders, that from which he eventually succumbed was inflammation of the lungs. W Davis was destitute of means when he came here and I have reason to believe that he was in debt to the owners of the mill where he was living prior to coming here. He appears on the Hospital Register as a single man who I understand had a native housekeeper to whom was born a son, a fine intelligent looking young fellow of about 15 years. The remains were interred very respectfully at the expense of the Hospital by the Reverend W. Robeson of the WM Church.

Wm Davis was well and carefully attended to by one of my nurses named Arsha Smith and would no doubt have ultimately recovered had not his strength failed at a very trying time his complaints were much augmented by the trip here on water, which was unfortunately taken opposed to his medical arisen coma.

I am dear madam your humble servant,

Allan Tarkeson,

Supr. RB Hospital

Notes for Katherine Spence:
THE SPENCE FAMILY

"It seems unbelievable that we know so little of Mother (Jennie) Spence Reed's people. Her parents, eliza bailey spence, came to live with us in Garner, Iowa, after Gabriel had suffered a paralytic stroke which made it almost impossible for him to talk. Grandma Spence (Eliza Bailey Spence) was quite deaf and nearly blind, but she took her religion seriously and read daily from the Bible and Christian Science materials. AM sure that Grandpa must have had a good sense of humor in his prime. He and Grandmother had breakfast after we had finishe; and when I would say good moring to them, Grandfather would reply "If it's morning ye would call it." But when he tried to go on, he was unable to say much. Then he would shake his head and sigh, "Oh dear, oh dear."

A story which I remember hearing about him is that though born in Ireland, he claimed to be Scotch. When he had to admit that his birth place was Ireland, he would ask "If a cat has kittens in the over, are they biscuits?" Here are a few facts about the family gleaned from Canadian records, an Iowa census, plus family legends. Gabriel was born August 12, 1882, Armaugh County, Ireland, and died July 7, 1908, in Island Lake, Wisconsin, where he was living with his son Will Spence, Eliza Bailey Spence, daughter of James and Eliza Murphy Bailey, was born February 5, 1838, in Canada and died December 13, 1908. According to the Kossuth County, Iowa, census of 1870, the children were Ellen, Katherine, George, Jennie, James, William, Margaret, born in Canada and Robert, Gertrude, and Etta Lorinda in the United States. Legend has it that Ellen Murphy (Jennie's grandmother) lived in France and despite her Irishname was a Protestant. During the French Revolution, police came to investigate her home for evidence of Protestantism. She was baking bread at the time and escaped punishment by hiding her Bible in a load that she was getting ready to rise. Later, thanks to her Irish name and the kindness of a Catholic priest, she escaped to Canada. Gabriel owned property in Egremont, Grey County, Ontario, Canada. This is where Jane or Jennie as she was called, was born. A look at the map will showyou that Grey County is in Northern Ontario where the altitude is high and the winters cold. It was virgin territory. Clair and Laila used to beg mother to tell about her childhood. When she reached the stage of telling about the howling wolves as she and Uncle Will went for milk, I covered by ears and missed further details; but her story is substantiated by a bulletin entitled Grey County Centennial, 1853-1952, sent to my by the County Recorder. Evidentlylife was too difficult and people were learning that prairie land was good land and easier to far than woodland which had to be cleared. So, via covered wagon and ox team, the family of two adults and eight children came to Kossuth County, Iowa, and settled near Algona, the county seat. There they found pioneers living in sod houses and were helped to build one. Mother (Jennie Spence) it was amazing how comfortable it was.

Grandfather planted wheat. The field was green and beautiful. All seemed to be going well one spring day when he left for town. But that night when he returned there was not a spear of green.

Generation 7 (con't)

Grasshoppers had devoured it all. From Algona the family moved to Christmas Lake near Excelsior, Minnesota, where Grandpa developed a fruit farm with Aunt Gertrude to aid and abet, and build a comfortable home. All went well until the paralytic stroke. The grandparents came to us for four years (Iowa) and from us to Uncle Will at Island Lake, Wisconsin. Mother corresponded with an aunt, and it she who told me of Ellen Murphy and James Bailey. The girls in the family lived at home and attended school. I wish all had been as fortunate as mother. She lived in the home of Ben Reed, the Editor of the Algona, Iowa newspaper. His regard for her was shown, I thought, by a call he made on her after we had moved to Garner, Iowa. And after I became a member of P.E.O., his daughter, then Dean of a college in Yankton, South Dakota, saw an article I had written for the P.E.O. Record and wrote me, hoping I was Jennie Reed's daughter whom she remembered with such pleasure. I think the older sisters married young. Aunt Gertrude trained as a nurse, became a supervisor and later with a friend, established a hospital in Fargo, North Dakota. She enlisted as a nurse during the Spanish-American War. We children were entranced with the souvenirs she brought from Florida and from Cuba. I am sure she was entranced too, because that was where she met her husband. There was a close family feeling in the clan but little opportunity for visiting.

I wish I knew more. Perhaps some day one of you will investigate the legend that there is a Spence Castle in Scotland or Ireland. Or, nearer home, perhaps you will investigate cemeteries near Excelsior. James Bailey was living with Grandma and Grandpa Spence at the time of his death. He was ninety-six years of age. His grave should be in an Excelsior cemetery. We came of long-lived stock. "

According to Gary Lee Edgar "Grandpa Marv told me that he was married first to the niece of a Rockford, Illinois police detective, and they had a girl. When he split up with her, the Edgar family made an attempt to kidnap the girl from the mother, but this failed. He thought that the girl had died a year or two later.

Marv was a sanitation worker for the city of Brodhead for several years and had worked at a few other jobs. He was always very nice to us kids and I enjoyed visiting with him often."

Marvin's obituary in his local newspaper adds " Mr Edgar was employed by the City of Brodhead until 1954 and was then employed by Beloit Corp., Beloit, until retiring in 1970."

where he had been resident for the previous 3 and a half years.

The funeral services were at 1.30pm on that Wednesday, at the Newcomer Funeral Home in Brodhead. The Rev. Larry Plinnow of Grace Lutheran Church, Monroe, officiated. Pallbearers were Jake Schlitter, Larry Ayres, Wilfred Bolton, William Saunders, Martin Hutzel and Duane Youngblood.

Grandpa Marvin was a railroad hobo for a few years when he was younger. His sister Ethel would go and get him from places where he got off the trains. United States Census, 1920 for Marion Leroy

Leslie Verne Case

The lives of most men seem to run their course according to prescribed formulae, or perhaps, to given plans and specifications--so alike are they in detail. The master weaver utilizes the same warp and woof, the shuttle weaves the fabrics, but now and then the pattern is abruptly and pleasingly changed. This change of pattern relieves the monotony, and we discover why the departure is interesting. A variety of vocations, and an equal proficiency in all, brings new colors and an harmonious design to the fabric of any man's life. Leslie Verne Case is a successful pedagogue, an eminent geologist, and a well known ornithologist and archaeologist. As a geologist he made the first discovery of radium-bearing ore in New York State. This product, cyrtolite combined with autonite and other complex uranium compounds, was found in Bedford, Westchester County, and was given due publicity in an article written by Professor L. Mcl. Luquer of Columbia University in the "American Geologist." The radium ores collected by Mr. Case formed a part of the Smithsonian exhibit at St. Louis at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and were later transferred to the American Museum of Natural History of New York City. Mr. Case is also an expert on gem stones. In the study of birds and their habits he is an authority, and his ornithological writings are learned and many. Mr. Case has lectured extensively on archaeology, and a part of his Egyptian collection is given prominent place in the New York State Museum at Albany.

Leslie Verne Case was born October 1, 1874, at Cohocton, New York, a son of George Washington and Ella Mary (Peck) case. Mr. Case is descended from Colonial New England stock. Among his ancestors were several of Revolutionary fame, including colonel Ethan Allen, Zebulun Phillips, and Caleb Mathewson. George Washington Case served for some years as police justice, but has since retired. During the Civil War he volunteered in the New York National Guard, Company A, and after having served his enlisted time received an honorable discharge, he reenlisted in the 188th United States Infantry, Company F, 1st Division, 2d Brigade of the 5th Corps. He served with General U. S. Grant's army until the end of the war, when he received his honorary discharge. Mr. Case has served as aid-de-camp in the National Encampment, and is the present commander of Bingham Post, Grand Army of the Republic. Leslie Verne Case, following his preparatory course in the Atlanta High School, entered the Naples Academy and was graduated in 1894. He then entered the Geneseo State Normal School and received the classical diploma in 1897. He supplemented his pedagogical training by a thorough course at New York University, graduating with the class of 1905. Since then he has taken a considerable amount of post-graduate work in both Cornell University and Columbia University. During his undergraduate days he was affiliated with the Gamma Sigma fraternity.

From 1897 to 1898 Mr. Case was connected with the public school of West River, New York. During the two following years he was employed in the public school at Bedford, New York, and resigned to enter the Tarrytown public school system in 1900. With the reorganization of the schools into a supervisory unit Mr. Case was appointed the first superintendent of the Tarrytown public schools, which position he is still occupying . . . a period covering nearly a quarter of a century. He now ranks as the senior among the city and village superintendents in the point of continuous service in Westchester County. For three summers Mr. Case was honored as faculty lecturer on science at the New York State Summer School for Teachers at Cliff Haven, New York. Mr. Case has been a pioneer in scientific research and has invented several instruments which have been widely used. He has done much research work in color photography, and his photograph of lightening, reproduced simultaneously in the Buffalo "Sunday Courier" and the Syracuse "Sunday Herald" of August 20, 1894, was one of the first photographs of lightening ever taken. He made the first X-ray photograph in Tarrytown in 1903, and installed the first wireless receiving set in Tarrytown in 1904. When the late Professor Tuff of Columbia University went to Paris to study with the Curries, Mr. Case was put in charge of the radium measurements in the Phoenix Research Laboratory of the university. During the World War Mr. Case was chairman of the "four-minute" men of Tarrytown and North Tarrytown. He is now a member of the Board of Water commissioners of Tarrytown, and also an active member of the Tarrytown Fire Department.

Mr. Case was married, at Brownsville, Tennessee, on April 7, 1914, to Sarah Gray, daughter of John Turner and Ora (Battle) Gray. Among her ancestors of Revolutionary fame were Captain William Battle, Lieutenant John Williams, Nathan Brodie, John William Crockett, and Rev. John Thompson. The Battle family was of French Huguenot stock and were among the settlers of New Rochelle, going from there to Virginia, and thence to Tennessee. Of this marriage there is one child, George Battle Case, born at Tarrytown, New York on December 8, 1922. Mr. and Mrs. Case are members of the First Presbyterian Church of New York City.

Leslie Verne Case and Sarah Margaret Sallie Gray had the following child:

- i. GEORGE BATTLE¹⁰ CASE (son of Leslie Verne Case and Sarah Margaret Sallie Gray) was born on 08 Dec 1922 in Tarrytown, Westchester, New York. He died on 29 Oct 2010 in North Branford, New Haven, Connecticut. He married Peggy Louise Kelly on 15 Jul 1944 in Cambridge, Middlesex, Massachusetts. She was born on 03 Jul 1923 in Memphis, Shelby, Tennessee. She died on 06 Feb 1997 in Branford, New Haven, Connecticut.

Notes for Gerald LeRoy Edgar:
[2811219.FTW]

Jerry was a master electrician who had learned the trade from his DeVoe half siblings. In his younger years he enjoyed fishing, hunting, model airplanes and boats that he built, and was a Life Scout in the BSA. He was also very good at woodworking at an early age, and made several peices of furniture. Jerry did almost all of the work on his first house and without much help.[Edgar Descendancy.FTW] Jerry was a master electrician and knew plumbing. He was also quite good at auto mechanics.

According to Gary Lee Edgar "He was very active in the Boy Scouts of America Troop 108 of Brodhead, Wisconsin when he was younger. His hobbies were building model airplanes, collecting keychains, electronics, and woodworking. In high school he became interested in hunting. He was the manager for the high school basketball team, and the (producer) of the senior class play. He worked for General Motors Corporation of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin for 20 years, owned his own electrical business, was a Green County Sheriff's Deputy, and was a private pilot. He was also a member of the Green County Civil Defense" at the time of the death of his grandson, Eric Wayne Edgar.

A newspaper article from August 1953 reads: Jerry Edgar Gets Arrow Scout Rating; Jerry Edgar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Edgar, Brodhead, received the Order of the Arrow in Scouting at Canyon camp, Apple River, Ill., in July this year. In scout work five years with a Life rank, Jerry has one more advancement to make to gain the coveted Eagle award, the highest rank in scouting. He has been an Explorer three years, was a Junior Scout leader six months and is senior patrol leader of Troop 108 at the present time. Jerry's hobby is building miniature airplanes, a "trade" in which he has keenly interested the past 12 years. He has 25 different models hanging in the basement of his home now, has given many away, and has destroyed many others in favor of the new types. A junior in the local high school, he was student manager of the basketball team. Needless to say, one of his favorite subjects is basketball - the other is Math.

Dad lettered for his basketball manager position and was also in school plays. He was not able to go out for football because of his heart condition. Dad hit another student in high school and injured him badly but grandpa Marv was more than happy to pay for the medical bills.

Notes for Betty Louise Christensen:
[Edgar Descendancy.FTW]

Betty was born at the home of a midwife in Brodhead, Wisconsin, and spent all of her childhood years on the 147 acre farm of her father in Decatur Township located about one half mile West of Brodhead. As a young girl she was very active in the Decatur Township 4-H. She won several awards and ribbons for her cooking and sewing projects. Betty did not care much for farm work and her personal chores and duties were mostly restricted to the household except on one occasion where her father was sick and she had no choice but to help her grandfather with the farm chores. Betty has done extensive traveling throughout the United States, and has been in Mexico and Canada. She has always been dedicated to her various employments, and attentive to her family. Betty enjoys collectibles (especially glass), flea markets, reading, is a fan of the Milwaukee Brewers baseball team, and spending time with her family. [1617 1.FTW]
Betty also won several bowling awards and trophies.
